proportions through elaborate fiesta scenes.

In celebration of the play's decennial, and the fact that they in Olympiad year, when myriads of visitors from afar will be in Southern California, the pageant association plans to elaborate the presentation by augmenting the cast.

The pageant is unique both in setting and manner of presentation; the Ramona Bowl, a modern concrete theatre set in a huge pocket in a canyon on the slopes of Mt. San Jacinto, uses the entire mountainside as a stage.

No artificial properties of any kind are employed, the action centering about a replica of the old Camulos ranch hacienda fronted by a permanent patio garden viewed across a babbling brook. The surrounding canyon walls provide the settings for the episodes in the play.

The natural setting creates that illusion that the spectators are actually seeing events of decades ago transpire, as horsemen gallop in and out of the bowl and the daily tasks of an early estancia are carried out before their eyes.

Preparations are being made by the twin cities of Hemet and San Jacinto to accommodate a record throng during the three week-end showings of the pageant.

Tenth Annual Presentation of "Ramona"

Famous Historic Drama to Be Staged at Hemet in April and May

(By C. N. P. A., Inc.)

HEMET, Calif.—Saturday, April 23, definitely is set as the opening date for the tenth annual Ramona Pageant, to be staged in the picturesque Ramona Bowl on the outskirts of Hemet, according to an announcement just made by Edward Poorman, president-manager.

The spectacular play will be repeated on Sunday, April 24, and on April 30 and May 1, and May 7 and 8, each performance starting at 2:45 o'clock in the afternoon. The option of three week-ends is given to tourists, travelers and early Olympic Games visitors to witness the outdoor extravaganza, which draws visitors from all parts of the world to the beautiful San Jacinto Valley in Riverside county.

While the production, a community non-profit enterprise dedicated to the preservation of Southern California romance and tradition, is a dramatization of Helen Hunt Jackson's famed novel, "Ramona," it assumes spectacular
